Transform Trust and the role of a Governor

We are a successful multi academy trust with 14 primary schools in Nottingham and Derby City. We like to think our values and ethos set us apart in that we have a strong focus on empowering our member schools to drive their improvement journey whilst maintaining their own individual identity and community focus.

As we continually grow, we are looking to appoint volunteers in the role of School Governor across a number of our schools. Being a governor is a rewarding and effective way of making a contribution to your community and the lives of young people. Governors do not manage a school, but agree the aims of the school and offer an appropriate level of support and challenge to Headteachers and their leadership teams to monitor progress.

If you are able to work as a team and available to attend between 9-15 meetings in an academic year (meetings are usually in the early evenings) please contact, without obligation, Jill Wilkinson, National Leader of Governance, for more information: jill.wilkinson@transformtrust.co.uk.

In return, we offer you the opportunity to be part of a fast-moving Trust that is passionate about its values and ethos, along with the appropriate training to undertake the role.
